Topics / Preparation

The rules of procedure generally follow UN General Assembly conduct. They are similar to the NMUN rules of procedure for those who use BayernMUN as a preparation for NMUN. The complete rules of procedure will be available on our website. Additionally, we offer a crash course for the rules of procedure on Friday.

The provisional agenda of the BayernMUN conference 2022 contains these two topics:

1. Forced Displacement due to Climate Change
2. Promoting the Involvement of Women in Political Participation

Background guides with further information about these topics are available on our website www.bayernmun.org.

Writing of position papers is encouraged but not required.

Resolution Writing is aligned to match NMUN. We will not accept material written prior to the conference, since one of the goals is the collaborative effort to find solutions for the topics. For more information, please refer to our website.

Dress Code and Code of Conduct

Please adhere to the dress code and code of conduct of the United Nations: International Business Attire and diplomatic decorum is mandatory during sessions. The Chair reserves the right to sanction violations of dress code and code of conduct to ensure a smooth and professional conference.
